

The Master Girdler

Charles Nicholas Glynn Crowther-Smith

(Elected and installed on 26th July 2018)

Date of Birth: 18th June 1951.

Home: East Ewell, Surrey.

Family: Married to Lesley. Three step-children: Rebekah, Robyn and William, and one step-dog, Deefer.

Education: St. Aidan's College, Grahamstown

Career: Born and raised in South Africa of English parents, Charles moved with them to the UK in the early 70s. He became a programmer in 1974, when being able to spell the word "computer" showed aptitude enough. He worked in a number of roles for a computer manufacturer and various software houses before ending his career with Lloyds Bank.

After taking early retirement in 2006, he served from 2009 to 2016 as treasurer of the Multiple Sclerosis Therapy Centre in Guildford of which his late wife Fleur was a member.

Interests: Playing tennis, watching rugby, and amateur dramatics (he is a member of several groups). Music, especially the classical guitar. Travel generally, but particularly 3-day walking trails in South Africa's Kruger National Park.
