

Mr Adrian Udal
The Girdlers' Company

Master 2025-26

Adrian was born in London, has two siblings and lives with his wife in West London. His parents had Livery connections, and his father was a past Master Girdler.

Adrian studied Electrical & Electronic Engineering and worked for a while in theatre lighting in the West End. He then worked in television recording for a national broadcaster and latterly as a Broadcast Editor.

Adrian is Secretary of the Belfry at St Margaret's Church, Westminster. Recently he has undertaken a four-year practical course in property litigation. His other interests include canal boating, performing Arts and sound recording. He is a Trustee of two charities.

Adrian is delighted to be elected Master of the Girdlers' Company in its 698th year. He looks forward to supporting the Company as it prepares to celebrate the seventh Centenary of the Letters Patent granted to it by Edward III in 1327.
